With one of the most renowned wine shops in Tuscany, Enoteca Molesini is owned and managed by Marco & Paolo Molesini. Marco became a sommelier in 1999 and devotes his expertise in the wineshop where he offers over 1,500 labels which ship to customers worldwide. He established the school of Viticulture and Enology in Cortona for the University of Georgia, which has held a Cortona campus for over forty years. He is an instructor in the school and has countless students that have become friends and customers over the decades.

Marco spends two months each year in the US where he presents the best of Italian wines at private tastings in the homes of his customers, at golf and yacht clubs, and during wine dinners.

In Cortona, much time is spent organizing and managing Wine, Dine & Shine in Cortona. This celebrated program incorporates a local artisan jeweler and the top Cortonese chefs into a weekly tasting experience and wine dinner that partners with Italy's best wine producers. Now over 20 years since its inception, these events bring thousands of guests to Cortona each year!

Finally, in 2017, Marco launched the Molesini Wine Club. The wine club is a unique experience for clients all over the world as they have access to highly sought after allocations and wines not otherwise available outside of Italy.

Visiting more than 80 wineries a year, Marco has guaranteed and unprecedented access to the most exclusive and renowned wineries throughout Italy. With easy access from Cortona, it is common for Marco to weekly visit Chianti, Montalcino, and Montepulciano with guests. Meeting the owners and winemakers at each of the wineries is not uncommon and can be arranged in advance at the request of guests.

Partnering with wineries, tour operators and other sommeliers is of utmost importance to Marco and his business.
